

Shipping and Receiving

We take great care in packaging and shipping your order. If your order is shipped Common Carrier Freight, you will be responsible for unloading your order from the freight truck into your home or business. When your order arrives, please take time to inspect the package before you sign for it. If possible open the cardboard and inspect that the item is undamaged and verify with the delivery driver, but if that is not possible inspect the outside for signs of damage. While we take great care in packaging our products accidents can happen during shipment. If you notice any damage please perform the following steps:

- 1) Note damage on bill of lading with the driver.
- 2) Call us immediately at Toll Free 866-512-3490.
- 3) Retain all the packaging.
